Milwaukee, Wis.- The UIC baseball team, which has won 12 of its last 15 games, seeks to continue its hot play when the Flames square off with UW-Milwaukee in a road doubleheader on Tuesday afternoon.

The first game is set for 3:00 p.m. at UW-Milwaukee's Henry Aaron Field, with UIC LHP Joe Skinner scheduled to battle UWM LHP Robert Michalkiewicz.

UIC took two of three in the two teams' first series back in late March. Zach Peterson earned a complete-game victory on March 24, while Skinner pitched 6.1 innings in the second game of a March 25 doubleheader to earn his first win in a UIC uniform.

The Flames have won six of their last seven Horizon League contests heading into Tuesday's games.

Tuesday's doubleheader will mark the fourth and fifth road games in four days for the Flames.
