Jovan Bubonja Named A Soccer America MVP

Flames goalkeeper named to publication's national second team.

Dec. 22, 2007

Chicago, Ill.- UIC sophomore goalkeeper Jovan Bubonja (Belgrade, Serbia/VI Belgrade) was named a Soccer America 2007 Men's Second Team MVP this week.

Bubonja turned in a school-record 12 shutouts to help guide the Flames to their first Horizon League Tournament title since 2000 and UIC's first-ever Elite Eight finish in the NCAA Tournament.

The second-year netminder finished the 2007 campaign with a goals-against average of 0.56, which ranked ninth in the country heading into this weekend's College Cup.

Bubonja allowed just three goals in the Flames' final nine matches, including an eight-match stretch prior to UIC's final contest in which he allowed only a penalty kick goal.

In addition to his honor from Soccer America, Bubonja has been named a College Soccer News All-American and earned 2007 NSCAA/adidas All-Great Lakes Region First Team honors.
